

416. A line of piping is a combination of elbows or bends, which brings one section of the pipe out of line but into a line parallel with the original section.

(a) Dead end

(c) Drain

(b) Offset

(d) Flooded

416. A line of piping is a combination of elbows or bends, which brings one section of the pipe out of line but into a line parallel with the original section.

(a) Dead end

(c) Drain

(b) Offset

(d) Flooded

