

469. It is a valve in which the flood of liquid is cut off by means of the circular disc that fits over and against the horizontal valve seat. The movement of the plane of the disc is parallel to the normal direction of the flow of water.

(a) Gate valve

(c) Foot valve

(b) Check valve

(d) Butterfly valve

470. A drain connecting the compartments of certain fixtures to its trap is called

- (a) Combination waste and vent
- (b) Continuous waste
- (c) Special waste
- (d) Indirect waste

