

713. Generally, what is the standard diameter of standpipe for buildings more than six stories tall?

(a) 9"

(c) 6"

(b) 4"

(d) 10"

714. In sizing the grease interceptors, four elements are used. Two of these elements are the number of meals per peak hour and the waste flow rate. What are the other two elements?

- (a) Slope and retention time
- (b) Storage factor and time of concentration
- (c) Retention time and storage factor
- (d) Percolation rate and time of concentration

